Dear Taxpayer:

This is in reply to your correspondence received Sep. 04, 2020.

We have determined that the arguments you raised are frivolous and have no basis in law. Federal courts have consistently ruled against such arguments and imposed significant fines for taking such frivolous positions.

If you persist in sending frivolous correspondence, we will not continue to respond to it. Our lack of response does not convey agreement or acceptance of the arguments stated. If you desire to comply with the law concerning your tax liability, you are encouraged to seek advice from a reputable tax practitioner or attorney.

The claims presented in your correspondence do not relieve you from your legal responsibilities to file federal tax returns and pay taxes. We urge you to honor those legal duties.

This letter advises you of the legal requirements for filing and paying federal individual income tax returns and informs you of the potential consequences of the position you have taken. Please observe that the Internal Revenue Code (IRC) Sections listed below expressly authorize IRS employees that act on behalf of the Secretary of the Treasury to:

1. examine taxpayer books, papers, records, or other data which may be relevant;
2. issue summonses in order to gain possession of records so that determinations of tax liability can be made or for ascertaining the correctness of any return filed by a person; and
3. collect any such liability.

There are people who encourage others to violate our nation's tax laws by arguing there is no legal requirement for them to file income tax returns or pay income taxes. Their arguments are based on legal statements taken out of context and on frivolous arguments that have been repeatedly rejected by federal courts. People who rely on this kind of information can ultimately pay more in tax, interest, and penalties than they would have paid simply by filing correct tax
